Today I went along to the station and bought some more dried beans, as we have almost none left and we are going to make some more.

I am still working at the station and buying more dried beans.
I am also working on the house.

The Articles of the peace of Hungarie, conuented and accorded vpon, betwenee the Archduke Mathias, on the Emperours behalfe, and the Deputies of the Lorde of Boz̄kay and of other Hungarian Lords.

In like manner, the conditions, and Artickles of the truce, betwenee the Emperour and the Turke.

Et it, that such degrees as were heretofore made, touching the defence and exercice of any other, then the Romaine Religion, without thire consent, shall at this present bee renounced and annulled, and that from henceforward, al Lords, Gentlemen, Townes, or other ciuitates holding of the the Crown of Hungarie, as in like manner, all men of warre, upon the frontiers, shall be permitted to exercise and profess whether of these three Religions they doe make choise of, the Romaine, Lutheran, or Calvinistical, excepted alwayes without any Infringement or prejudicie, to the rites, renewewes, and profits, of the Catholike, or Romaine Churches, as also such goods shall bee reslored vnto them againe, which were taken from them during the troubles past.

That there shall bee a Treatie of peace with the Turke.

That it shall bee lawfull, and permitted them, to chuse a Count Palatine, according to the custome heretofore in use, and with those Dignities, prerogatives, and requisite autho-ritie; But because his Imperiall Majestie, for many other important Christian affaires, can not be personally in Hungarie, or vpon the Confines, and so on the other side it would be very inconuenient for those of his Kingdom, to follow his Majestie, and vpon all occasions to traualle to his Court, he hath reestablished the same generall authoritie, a power which before times seemed necessary, in the Archduke Mathias his Brother, to bee his Lieutenant

Lieutenant Generall in the same Countrie, it being his Maesties pleasure, that in all affaires of importance, concerning the adua-ntage and benefit of the Crowne, that he bee heare, and absolutely obeyed, as his owne proper imperiall person.

That when the Realme shall be in peace, and free from the dangers which now threaten it, his Maestie will be content, to transferte his Court to Presbourg vpon Danubius in Hungarie.

That the Lord high Treasurer General, shall be an Hungarian, whose charge shal extend, but to the treasurie, and reuenewes, without medling any wayes in matters of State; as also to like manner the Receivers generall, and particular, shall be men native to the Countrie, and chosen by the estates therof, & for the differences betweene the Bishoppes of Clun, and Vaudacie, they are referred to the censure of the Estates of the Realme

Because

of his Majesties Ecclesiastical or His Majesties Lieutenant in his Majesties Ecclesiastical or His Majesties Lieutenant because his Majesties royal authoritie, may no wayes be infirmed by anything about mentioned, hee shall bee free, to nominate, and elect, such as hee pleasereth to bee Bishops, onely with this promise and condition, that they bee Nobles, and naturally borne in the Countrie, without augmenting vpon this occasion, the number of Counsellours of State.

Chancery of Lancast. 1547. folio 10. recto. 1547. folio 10. recto.

That Ecclesiastical reuenewes, shall re-maine in their present State, and if any plca, or sutes growe vpon them, they shal l bee ad-iudged by the Estates.

Chancery of Lancast. 1547. folio 10. recto. 1547. folio 10. recto.

That the Deuty of Chancery haue no propriete of their owne; nor may not acquire, or purchase any fiefdom, or inheritance within the Realme, onely they shall be permitted to enjoy such donations as his Majestie doth brefesse vpon them.

Chancery of Lancast. 1547. folio 10. recto. 1547. folio 10. recto.

B Lordships,

Lordships, and lands morgaged, shall remaine likewise in their due valew, till their redēption and release, which shall be permited to þ proprietaries, according to order, and moderation set downe by the Estates.

As for the particular matter, of the saide Botzkay, hee shal bee allowed the Title, and Dignitie, of a Prince of the Empire in Transilvania, Count of Cicles, and Lord of the pates of high Hungary, with the reuenewes of the same Landes, as also he shall hold the Castle of Touay, and two generalitics depending on the same, as well on this side, as beyond the riuer of Tisque the Fortresse of Iacmar, and the two townes called Herenture, and Torreualy, togither with the Centhes of Etlan, and whatsoeuer before specified for him selfe, and his heires males, discending of him, without that, in default of such issue, any of his other kinsmen, may pretend any right, or succession therunto, but if hee leauc one, or more daughters they shalbe kept, and maintained, according as his Majestie hath conuanted with the said Lord.

Whatsocuer hath bin attempted and atted, both by the one part, and the other shall bee committed to bitter obliuion.

An end of the present Articles above mentioned, Articles and Conditions of the Truce made betweene the Empetour, and the Turke, translated out of high Dutch.

¶ Hat everyone shal be permitted , to redusie their houses, fortresses, or any other buildings, and to repaire and resettle them in the same estate , wherin they were before the wars, and moreover to bulde newe , as they shall thinke good,

That the Embassadors , both of the one and other side , shall attribute vnto their masters, the title of Father and Sonne: which is to say, the one of sonne, to the great Turke, and the other of father to the Emperour: and that one reciprocally demanding any thing of the other, by letters , it shall quickly be dispatched, and agreed vnto: and that writing ded within this Truce , with an intunction, and inhibition vnto them , to doe no kind of Dammage, or make any incursions vpon the Christians,

That the truce shal continue, for the space of fifteen yeares,

That all the Lands , Kingdomes , and Lordships , belonging to the house of Au-striche , shall bee comprehended within this truce , and if he determine to make peace with the Spaniard, that he may herein no waies bee hindred , but rather assisted , & furthered by the Emperour.

That Incursions , and Inroads , as well of the one part , as the other be prohibited , & if any one of the severall parties , doe not ob-serue this , the transgressors shall be imprisoned , and punished with exemplary justice , as well on the one side , as on the other , making restitution of Dammages ,

That no man be permitted either openly, or secretly, to betray, or surprise, either fortetresse, towne, or house, to take any prisoner of the one or other part, nor to entertaine, be it the one, or the other, any spies, principally in Hungary. and that no kind of excuse be pretended, for matters before time evill carried.

That Merchants, and all traffiquants, may freely, and securely trauell, & that they may be safe conducted by Captains, or other Commanders, to the borders and confines of countries: and that places be nominated, cord set down by the Visio Basha, that an Im-bassador be sent from the Turke to the Em-perour with a present of horse, armes, rich-tainment, or some such like things.

12.

That this truce be firme, and indissoluble for fiftene yeares, and that without all faille, there be Embassadors appointed every three yeares, of like condition, and quality, with requisite and conuenient presents, without any wates specifying of them, but it being referred to the discretion of him which shall send them,
